A community-based, content-driven and technology-enabled approach

- Taobao Marketplace is different from those e-commerce platforms where customers choose products from virtual shelves. Taobao Marketplace adopts a community-based, content-driven and technologyenabled approach to e-commerce.
- Community-based Taobao Marketplace launched the Family Account in early 2018, connecting the elderly, young children and couples. Account members can initiate interaction, share product links and pay for purchases by other family members.

Taobao Forums allow users to gather and interact with each other as well as receiving updates about products and fashion trends from Internet celebrities and merchants they follow. Taobao also provides in-app chatting group function for users to share coupons, product information and shopping lists.

- Content-driven Taobao takes a step beyond pictorial product listings by introducing new methods of interaction between Internet celebrities, merchants and consumers in the form of live video-streaming and short clips that allow merchants to detail product features and directly answer customers' questions or make recommendations to them. In addition, Taobao Forums allow Internet celebrities and merchants to showcase their products, as well as sharing interesting snippets from their daily lives to boost consumer loyalty, conversions and repeat purchases.
- Taobao generated more than RMB100 billion in GMV through livestreaming sessions in 2018, an increase of almost 400% year-on-year. Some 81 live-streamers notched over RMB100 million in sales, respectively, in 2018. Across all industries and sectors in China, brands and sellers are already transforming their digital capabilities to stimulate business development through Taobao livestreaming. Among the top female clothing brands, more than 30% of sales are driven by live-streaming. In certain industries, such as jewelry and jade, flowers and plants, the penetration rate of brands using Taobao livestreaming is close to 50%.

 Technology-enabled – Enabled by consumer insights, Taobao is capable of generating personalized interfaces and recommending products to users according to their preferences, offering an engaging and unique shopping experience. In addition, Taobao's customer service robot empowers merchants to handle large amounts of enquiries and service requests, such as product and marketing campaign enquiries, personalized recommendations, order amendments and item returns and exchanges.
